

About Santa Monica College’s Extension “Preferred Partner” Program

Join more than 200 local employers that have partnered with Santa Monica College to promote “Life Long-Learning” throughout the community. The College’s Extension courses are designed for working professionals and are offered in a variety of convenient formats – evenings, weekends, online or on-site – all designed to meet the needs of the community. We are now partnering with businesses, state agencies and professional associations to develop and deliver a wide variety of employee learning and development programs – from one-day workshops to short term certificate programs.

Benefits of Becoming a Preferred Partner

As a Preferred Partner, your employees will receive a minimum 10% discount on all SMC Extension courses and select SMC Community Education courses. The courses being offered are high demand topics including:

Customized & Co-Branded Course Offerings

Our team is available to assist your organization with constructing customized offerings. Based on your needs, we can create course offerings that are consistent with your organization’s goals for employee development. These custom offerings can be made available for a set number of employees and/or available for a set range of time. The cost of these courses can be easily processed as one single transaction that is funded by your company or simply offered at a discount to your employees.
